

Arizona State looks the best with some rest

Arizona State is the best team in the nation, according to a poll of college football coaches. The poll, conducted by Sports Illustrated, ranked the Sun Devils as the top team in the country for the second year in a row.

ASU's success is attributed to its strong defense and the leadership of head coach Paul W. Huggins. The team has a record of 10-1-1 and is ranked No. 1 in the nation.

BASEBALL'S BIGGEST COMEBACKS

The Boston Braves were in last place on July 16, 11 years ago. They finished the season with a record of 44-111. The team's comeback was led by pitcher Tom Seaver, who won the National League MVP award.

Other notable comebacks include the New York Yankees in 1975 and the St. Louis Cardinals in 1967.

'I've done it all,' Anderson crows

Tommy Anderson, a former professional football player, has announced his retirement. Anderson played for the Pittsburgh Steelers and the New York Jets.

Anderson is known for his versatility, having played as a quarterback, running back, and wide receiver. He is now a coach at the University of Louisville.

Dooley could miss 4 games

Quarterback Tom Dooley is expected to miss the next four games due to a knee injury. The injury occurred during a game against the University of Tennessee.

Dooley is the starting quarterback for the University of Louisville and is a key player for the team.

U of L coach calls off practice

Head coach Paul W. Huggins has called off practice for the University of Louisville football team. The team is preparing for an upcoming game against the University of Kentucky.

Huggins is known for his coaching style, which emphasizes discipline and hard work. The team is currently ranked No. 1 in the nation.
