

U of L Spring Football Game

The University of Louisville plays its spring football game April 18 at 4 p.m. as part of the Kentucky Derby Festival. This will be the first time Coach Howard Schnellenberger will be able to showcase his 1987 football team in Cardinal Stadium. The game is co-sponsored by 84WHAS and THE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE and is free.

Coach Schnellenberger looks for the game to be a positive sign for things to come in the 1987 season. U of L has just signed 25 of the top prospects in the country. With these recruits and the return of running back Deon Booker and defensive lineman Chris Thieneman, the Cardinals will be a team to be proud of this fall.

Following the game, Cardinal coaches, players and the Cardinal Bird will be available to fans for autographs and photos.

Also, following the football game is the McDonald's Derby Festival Basketball Game in Freedom Hall at 8 p.m. General admission for this game is $5, reserved seating is $9.

So make a day of it, Sports Fans! The hard-hitting action of the Spring Football game in Cardinal Stadium at 4 p.m. and the McDonald's Derby Festival Basketball Classic at 8 p.m. in Freedom Hall.
